SAFE IN JAIL — The man looking out at the desperate guns and beards confronting him here probably feels safer inside the jug than outside. Aiming the arsenal of shotguns, Colt 45's and other hardware is a vigilante group found almost any hour of the day on Cameron streets these Western Week days. Even the judiciary and law enforcement arms were among the group this week that was jailing Western code violators not wearing Western garb, shaving or beard badges or permissible paraphanalia. Thousands are expected in Cameron today, tomorrow and Saturday for the Cameron Horse Show parade and riding events that will climax Western Week. As expected, the portable jail will have an open door policy. —Staffoto

Ol' 100 With F M L

The heavily bearded man strode down the middle of the street, gun hand tensed, cigarette dangling from his thin line of a mouth.

His suave, vested adversary sidled toward the tough, mean-looking hombre with calculated step.

Obviously someone was going to die.

Between the gunfighters staggered a derby hat with a "drunk" underneath, mangled cigar clinched between bloodshot teeth. He was looking for a light.

100-100-100-100

Onlookers stood by, wondering when lead was to fly. The derbied Westerner approached one gunfighter, then the other, neither halting nor distracting the steely gaze that locked the desparate duo.

Suddenly .... three men rushed out and grabbed the staggering intruder and rushed him into the jail.

Just as suddenly, shots rang out, only one man stood, looking down his smoking barrel at the "lifeless" form of the bearded gunslinger. The slick, suave gunman had notched another desperado and the Cameron street once again felt the weight of dead justice, true to the Western code.

The gunslinger and his victim were hustled into the jail as sirens wailed.

And the innocent cigar smoker was heard to say: "All I wanted was a light."

100-100-100-100

This Old West melodrama intrigued hundreds of Cameronites Wednesday morning in downtown Cameron in another episode of Western Week that has captured the imagination of Central Texas. Principals in the act were Gene Smitherman, Buddy Shipp and Vic Hannon.

The jail, the beards, Western garb and all the rest were bringing excitement and sometimes frenzy to Cameron's seven-day promotion of Cameron's Horse Show tomorrow and Saturday.

More was on tab for the remaining three days with parades, beard contests and horse show promising keen interest for thousands of visitors to Cameron.

CAMERON GOES WEST — Cowboys and calico were the order this week during Cameron's Western Week which touched off one of the most colorful city-wide celebrations in Cameron history. A "typical" group of Western folks gathered for the Herald camera Monday morning. In foreground is Chamber President Milton Schiller. Costuming continued to gain in popularity as oldtime women's dresses, gamblers outfits blossomed out throughout the Milam County seat. Windup will be the Cameron Horse Show tomorrow and Saturday.

School Board Pledges Support Of P-TA Group

The Cameron School Board approved a vote of confidence for parent-teacher association functions and accepted resignations from coaches Murphy Webster, Bill Kruger and YHS teachers, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wiederkehr.

Votes for greater co-ordination between the school and the Cameron P-TA came after P-TA president Mrs. E. O. Smith, Jr. had tendered her resignation.

The board's vote included full endorsement of P-TA activities and greater inter-attendance of board and P-TA group members at meetings of the two groups.

And the board voted to request that the Cameron P-TA not accept Mrs. Smith's resignation. She was re-elected to the post this spring.

The board accepted resignations of Webster and Kruger, Mr. and Mrs. Wiederkehr who accepted posts in other school systems.

In other action, the board voted the Citizens National Bank school fund depository for the 1959-61 bienium. A motion calling for First National Bank as the new depository failed to carry.

In a three-hour meeting the board:

ASSIGNED committees to screen coaching and teacher applicants prior to board approval.

MOVED to send board agendas to press, radio and P-TA officials.

CALLED for continuous improvement of school facilities.

VOTED to buy football player insurance from C. B. Anderson Insurance, Dallas.

SENT Ada Henderson boiler bids to insurance experts for evaluation of low bids of $3,796 for a new boiler.

Cameron Receives Season's First Milo

Wilson Grain Elevator and Milam Grain Co. reported receiving their first loads of milo this week.

Wilson Elevator reported two loads of new Milo Saturday brought in by Thomas Jefferson and Charles Steward. Load totals were 77,840 pounds.

Officials at Milam Grain Co. reported their first load received Monday from O. S. Collins.

The local crop is expected to be in full swing next week.

County agriculture officials believe the grain crop is secure unless unforseen weather conditions would develop.

Promotion Stunts Capturing Interest

By Frank Luecke

Cameron's climactic Western Week celebration is due to hit its peak Friday night with the Saddle Club parade and horse shows due both Friday and Saturday.

But not before a major portion of Central Texas has learned of the "shootings, lynchings, house burnings and Western hoop-la" that has caught up Cameron and Milam County in a wild whirl of frontier reminiscence.

Thus far this week this 113 year-old town has seen jailings, a pitched gun battle, fake burning buildings with promises of other wild schemes before the fun is over.

Horse Show Friday

Main cause for the action is the Cameron Saddle Club Horse Show which gets officially underway 5:30 p.m. Friday with a long parade of saddle clubs, floats and bands in the tradition of Western Week folklore.

Actual horse show proceedings begin with the Gaited Horse Show at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Wilson-Ledbetter Park.

The quarterhorse show will start 8 a.m. Saturday and last throughout daytime competition prior to quarterhorse event finals Saturday night at W-L Park.

Cameron Saddle Club officials could not give an accurate count of entries at presstime, but anticipated at least 150 Southwestern entries by showtime Friday night.

Many Trophies

Trophies donated by Cameron businesses will go to top winners in 15 classes of gaited competition including shetland pony class, barrel races, reining and keyhole racing.

Quarterhorse show competition Saturday will include roping, cutter classes of stallions and fillies and open cutting.

Not to be forgotten Friday night are some 200 beard growers who will be judged by out-of-Cameron experts for best in four categories: fullest beard, reddest beard, best moustache and best goatee.

Beard winners will be selected during an intermission at Friday night's horse show.

Saddle Club president Charles McDermott said that combined Chamber and club efforts are developing the biggest show interest and prospective attendance in the history of the event.

Western garb became more apparent in Cameron as the week developed, and plans for even more surprise action reverberated throughout the downtown area.

A man without a badge, cowboy straw or some combination of Western articles was soon tapped for his "violation" if he walked the sreets of Comeron unprepared.

But everyone was joining in the frolic with increasing verve as the week end approached.

JOHN HOUSE'S CHAMPION JOE REED, II

Cameronite Raises Top Horses

On the eve of the fifth Cameron Horse Show, this guest feature about the dean of Southwest quarter-horse breeders, Cameron's John House, is most timely and interesting. Forthwith, we present Lois Gelner's story. —Ed.

Many of the top horses of the nation were bred and raised by John House, noted breeder of running horses for a quarter of a century and a life-long resident of Cameron.

House went into the horse business in 1924 when he bought Joe Reed from Henry Lindsey of Granger.

Joe Reed was one of the finest match horses in the Southwest in his day. He was honored by the American Quarter Horse Association with the number P-3 making him one of the chief foundation sires of the breed. Joe Reed was a chestnut horse with four stockings and a blaze. It is said that he had such tremendous power that when he started in a race he would spread his plates and nearly cripple himself and thereafter was shod with a bar across his heel.

Inherent Speed

He passed on his flawless conformation and blinding speed to his offspring with such success that they have made him an almost legendary figure. House became famous as a breeder of fine horses.

Joe Reed was by the celebrated thoroughbred Joe Blain out of Della Moore, the same mare that foaled Joe Moore and Grano de Oro. Joe Reed died at the age of 27 and his last foal, apprpriately named Joe's Last, is now one of the top ten cutting horses in the nation.

One of the most famous sons of Old Joe is Joe Reed II, the third ranking sire in 1958 in the number of racing register of merit qualifiers, with a total of 62.

On the track he ran only three races before an injury forced his retirement. In his last race he defeated the great Clabber, and the highly considered Chicaro and won the title of World's Champion Quarter Running Stallion for 1943.

Leo, a son of Joe II, surpassed his sires' record in 1958 by becoming the number one sire with 112 qualifiers.

Top Track Record

As a race horse, Leo set a track record as a two-year-old at Del Rio where he won all of his first four starts. Later he was taken to Oklahoma where he ran 22 races, winning 20. He received an eye injury coming out of the gate in his last race and was retired to stud. He is now owned by Bud Warren of Perry, Okla., and stands at a fee of $1,000.

Another son of Joe II that has gained fame as a sire is Bullseye whose daughter, Blondie Joan, was three year-old Quarter Running Filly Champion of 1958. Still another of importance is Lotta Dollar, a son of Catecher who is the California State Barrel Racing Champion.

There are many others of this strain holding championship track records; and working titles almost too numerous to mention. But perhaps the best horse ever raised by House is the stallion he is using at present.

Ancestor Beat Man O' War

His name is Beans, and don't let the name fool you. He traces back in male descent through Joe Reed to the famous thoroughbred progenitor Leamington and on his female side to upset the only horse that ever beat Man O' War.

Beans is a handsome bay stallion standing 15 hands and is siring some top quality colts. He was lightly raced on the bush tracks of Texas where he showed the same terrific speed out of the gate as his forebearer Old Joe.

As yet he is too young to have gained fame as a sire but he has some colts in training now which should bring him to the recognition of the public before long.

House is 86 years young and is looking forward to raising many more champions in the future.

MILAM COUNTY'S

Farm Scene

Crops Are In Maturing Stages

Crops continue to hold their own with maize and corn going into the maturing stages. Maize harvest will start about July 20 here in Milam County. Total county yield is expected to be below last year's record crop. Grain storage facilities are adequate and markets are expected to be active.

Corn harvest will not likely get underway before early August. A good corn crop is pretty well made but is secondary to maize as a grain crop for Milam County.

With near normal underground moisture, the cotton crop shapes up to about a bale to three or four acres on the upland and a half to three fourths of a bale per acre on the bottomland.

Generally, insects infestations are low and continue favorable except in local areas. Heavy boll weevil counts were noted in the Little River bottom below Hanover. Light cases of boll worms were also noted in this area.

Heavy honey-due on cotton plants as a result of aphids was reported in the San Gabriel and Sharp areas.

Farmers are cautioned to be on the alert for boll worms in their cotton. Early bollworm eggs are being laid on the shucks and in the cotton blooms. These eggs hatch into tiny worms that go un-noticed unless farmers examine the squares, blooms and small bolls carefully.

If five to ten small worms are found on fifty plants apply one quart to one half gallon of DDT per acre pending upon the size of the plants.

Quite a lot of grown bolls are noted on the early cotton and the first bales should come in around August first.

Claim for refund of Federal Tax on gasoline forms are available at the county Extension office. This claim will be allowed only if filed on or before September 30, 1959. Only one claim a year should be filed.

Fertilizers Have Carryover Value For Next Year's Crop

COLLEGE STATION—Fertilizer applied in one year can result in additional profits at the end of the following year's crop. In fact, increased yields from carryover fertilizer can often pay for the original cost of the fertilizer, said W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist.

Two demonstrations conducted by County Agent Bill Taylor in Hockley County in 1958 demonstrated these points, stated Bennett. In both cases, the fertilizer was applied prior to planting in 1957 and yields were taken in both 1957 and 1958.

On the Wayland Fred farm near Pettit, only two out of the six treatments applied failed to return the fertilizer costs, said the chemist. One rate, a 70-70-0 returned a profit of $21.80 in 1958 over and above the 1957 fertilizer costs. There were no yield increases from these fertilizer applications in 1957 due to a poor season.

In the demonstration conducted on the Morgan Rust farm near Levelland, all fertilizer treatments in the demonstration gave a highly profitable increase in yield in 1957. Looking at 1958 yields, all treatments gave sufficient yield increases to more than pay for the cost of the fertilizer, the Chemist said. One treatment in the demonstration, a 30-60-30, gave a profit above 1957 fertilizer costs of $29.35. Considering the increased profits for both 1957 and 1958, the 30-60-30 treatment returned $121.75 for an investment of $12.30.

These two demonstrations emphasized the value of carryover fertilizer. If good results are not obtained in one year such as in 1957, the carryover effect will still help to pay for the fertilizer, Bennett added.

Fertilizer Profits

Fertilizer applied in one year can result in additional profits at the end of the following crop year. Increased yields from carryover fertilizer can often pay for the original cost of the fertilizer, says W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist.

4-H Club Members Attend 1959 Sears Swine Contest

By Robert W. Hoermann
Ass't County Agent

Milam County 4-H Club members did well in the 1959 Sears Swine Heavy Litter Contest. There are five counties represented in the Waco area contest.

Winning money awards were: Don Glaser, Buckholts 4H Club member, Third prize; Fourth place Reed Davis, Sharp 4-H Club; and Henry Abel, Sharp 4-H Club.

Other Milam county 4-H Club members with litters entered in the contest and their placings were: J. Schoedner, 14th, Thorndale Club; Joe Paul Mueck, 16th St. Anthony Club; William James Foshea, 23rd, Burlington Club and Billy Blar, 30th, Thorndale 4-H Club.

The awards are presented on the basis of the heaviest litter weights recorded at the end of 56 days of age. This program presents a challenge, not only to show the top gilt in the September Sears Show, but also feeding and managing the gilt to produce a heavy litter.

4-H members should begin working on their record books. These books are due in the county agents office August 15th. The first two weeks in August will be used by the agents to assist 4-H Club members with their records.

Junior (9 through 13) and Senior (14 through 21) record books will be entered in the county and district contests.

If there are any questions concerning these record books, contact the county agents office.

The 1959 Boys District 4-H Camp will be held at Brownwood, Texas, July 20, 21, 22. There will be approximately 18 4-H boys and adult leaders attending the camp from Milam County.

Boys that have contributed to the 4-H program during the past year are eligible to attend on merit basis.

Highlight of the encampment is the Horticulture Team Demonstration for the Ross R. Wolfe Trophy. Carroll Wayne Glaser and Arvell Jungmann will represent Milam County in the Horticulture contest.

President Eisenhower has proclaimed the period from July 19-25 as National Farm Safety Week. In Texas, the Farm and Ranch Safety Council urges all rural residents to use the week for removing accident hazards from the farm and home.

Safety around farm machinery and the care that machines deserve go hand-in-hand. Every practice recommended in the way of caring for your machines is based on your well being. Here are some rules that apply first to good safety and second to good machinery care.

1. Reduce speed and increase care to avoid holes and ditches; when turning; on rough ground or on hillsides. 2. Engage the clutch gently, especially when pulling uphill, out of ditches, or extra heavy loads. 3. Always keep tractor in gear when going down steep grades. 4. Correctly couple implements and loads every time you hitch up. 5. Make sure the machinery is clean, adjusted and well oiled every time you use it.

These are just a few "double meaning" rules that help to insure longer, more productive life for both you and your machinery.

Many cases of food poisoning in hot weather could be avoided by careful refrigeration. Soft protein foods may spoil quickly in a warm place. Custards, cream-filled pastries or cakes, cooked salad dressing, stuffed eggs, potato salad, creamed meat, poultry and fish are especially susceptible to spoilage in summer weather. None of these foods can safely stand around in picnic baskets or in a warm kitchen. Best precautions against spoilage of these foods are speedy refrigeration and short-time storage. Foods that cause poisoning often show no sign of spoilage, so it's not safe to rely in taste, odor or appearance.

Two thirds of all Texas farm accidents involve youth under 20 years of age, mostly from sports, cuts, animals and automobiles. Accidents by age groups based on a farm accident safety survey for 1957 by the Youth committee of the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council are as follows: Youth under 20 years, 69.9 per cent; 20 to 40 years, 11.2 per cent; 40 to 60 yrs., 19.6 per cent and over 60 yrs, 2.3 per cent.

Milam County 4-H Club members are urged to correct the hazards on their farm and in their homes. Safety demonstrations by 4-H members can be used in their record books.

Reportable Diseases

Reportable diseases in Milam County for the week ending July 11 were 26 strep throat, 7 measles, 3 influenza and 1 gonorrhea according to Dr. T. E. Crump, acting director of the Milam County Health Department.

Two Agents Offer Assistance In Farm and Home Management

Farm and home management is most important to all rural and urban families. Sidney L. Jenkins, agent in Farm Management and Mrs. Doris Meyers, agent in Home Management, visited the local Extension agents in Milam county this week to offer their assistance with farm and home management problems. For example, through the enterprise programs farmers and to assist them in determining such management problems as, whether to feed grain sorghum to livestock or to sell it on the market, how many head of cattle make an economicaly unit. Home management problems include whether to can and free food or not, arranging work areas in the home, and whether to buy or make clothes.

It is a common practice for people to rush into the hog business at the time hog prices are favorable whether they have feed to market through the hogs or not. When cattle prices are high, every Tom, Dick, and Harry go into the cattle business to make some quick money. With this type of operation cattle population soon catch up with demands, the market slows down and cattle prices drop. Such statements sound negative and are not conductive to favorable public opinion, never the less, they happen.

While these castrophes are happening and the "quickie" cowboys are trying to explain the situation to their banker, there are stockmen who have been in the cattle business all through the years and will continue in the cattle business.

The same thing happens to those who go into the hog business. The only difference is it happens sooner because hogs reproduce at a much more rapid rate than cattle.

Our poultrymen are presently going through a vicious cycle. Poultry management leads the field in applied "know how." Because of good management, most of our poultrymen will continue in the business.

Good management is the key to successful operations and it is our tool to help cure our "agricultural ills." Lets work "smarter" and not "harder."

National Farm Safety Week

July 19-25 is National Farm Safety Week. The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council urges all rural residents to participate in safety programs planned in their communities.

Moisture Meter

At a number of cotton gins in Texas last year, growers increased their income from cotton by cooperating with the ginner in a seed cotton grouping program. Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist says a moisture meter was used to determine moisture content of the seed cotton in the trailers. The trailers were then grouped on the gin lot according to moisture and trash content or method of harvesting. This enabled the ginner to adjust drying equipment and machinery for the groupings. The result a better ginning job.

Egg Producers

Egg producers and handlers may expand their outlets and volume of sales if they meet the demands of many buyers for wholesalers, local chain and independent stores and national supermarket chain stores, says F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist. Generally, he says, these buyers are asking for the things that will satisfy their customers and give the the greatest possible chance for repeat sales.

If it's insureable, George Childress has the policy for it at low cost.

'Texas Eyes' On Us

The oldtimers of Cameron were searching their memories this week to recall a time when a city-wide event had caught Milam County's imagination as Western Week has.

Only parallel in Cameron history was the Centennial of 1946. Yet even that grand event probably did not develop public interest any faster than Cameron's Western Week.

From Monday morning on, the law of the West was in force and mobile jails, bank robberies, Western get-ups and true Texas spirit were the order of day.

Interest is not limited to Milam County. Practically every news media in Central Texas has taken up the hew and cry of Cameron Western Week and put this Cen-Tex town on everyone's mind.

If sincere community effort ever proved its point, this promotion for Western Week and the Cameron Saddle Club Horse Show has unquestionably scored.

Not just the physical spirit of Cameron has taken the Western up-beat, but the city's morale has hit new levels of community interest. It is a grand thing that Cameron is doing.

Garlands of bluebonnets, Texas' official flower, are due the Cameron Chamber, the Cameron Saddle Club, Junior Chamber and all the individuals who have boosted Western Week to state-wide level of interest.

The "Eyes of Texas are upon you" applies to Cameron and Milam County this week. And it is only the invaluable community spirit that put them there.

Welcome, Roadbuilders

In conjunction with Cameron's Western Week extravaganza, there was another event of utmost import held within these city limits.

We mean the ribbon-cutting ceremonies and barbecue honoring state highway department officials Tuesday evening.

It was another hallmark in Cameron's relations with agencies outside Milam County that are boosting this Cen-Tex center with their services.

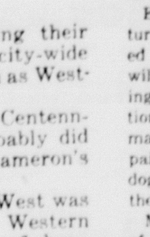
To say that highways for farm-to-market and intra-county travel are important is an understatement. County roadways serve a critical need for Cameron and all towns in Milam.

Some would say they lead only to bigger towns, but as roads do, they go both to and from county towns.

The relations between a community and the people upon whose aid these services depend are tantamount to having or not having the finished service, whatever it may be. How we get along with these officials is important as is how we get along as a community.

We add our welcome to these men, whose services in helping Cameron and Milam get streets and roads are unquestionably important.

The Little River Philosopher



Not In Favor Of Hiring A Public Relations Expert For Farmers

Dear editar:

As a lifetime student of the farm problem, not of what I think it is but what other people think it is, I'll have to admit that this week I have run across a brand new idea on the subject.

According to an article I read in a newspaper day before yesterday —I think it was day before yesterday, when you don't do any more one day than the next, they all run together — the farmer "is suffering today because of bad public relations."

According to this fellow, since 88 per cent of the people live in towns or cities, the public has a farmer and the farmer, if he's smart, will do something to "improve his public relations."

Right now, he continued, the people look on the farmer as (1) a hayseed, or (2) a profiteer responsible for the high cost of living, or (3) the biggest hog at the public trough, depending on the government to take care of him.

Now I don't know which one of these images you city people have when you think of me, but that Number 2 picture is the one I wish was right. For one farming year, just one, I'd like to be a profiteer. You could throw Number 1 in, it'd be all right, I wouldn't mind, I wouldn't care if you thought I was a hayseed, just so long as I was profiteering. And as far as the government taking care of me goes, it's a beautiful dream, but I've never been able to swing it.

This man went on to emphasize that us farmers ought to do something about our public relations, do something to change the public's image of. Well, I guess we could hire some of those Madison Avenue boys, they do a pretty good job of making a politician's image over in the public's eye, but I can't think of any way I'd rather look in the public's eye that'd make me feel any better in my own efe. Besides, by the time I get through paying for my equipment, my gas and oil and tires and repairs and clothes and taxes. I don't have anything left for a public relations expert.

Appearing prosperous never did appeal to me. There's millions of those folks in the country now, especially in the towns and cities. Nothing less than the genuine article will ever suit me.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

Capitol Report:

Tax Issue Will Flame Up Again

AUSTIN—Whatever the outcome of the summer tax battle, when the smoke has all cleared, the fire won't be out.

Like live coals banked in ashes, the tax issue will be ready to flame up again when new fuel is added.

Sources of new fuel are easily foreseeable.

Every member of this Legislature, by his voting record, expressed a tax viewpoint. Many of them will have to face opponents attacking this viewpoint in the 1960 elections. Since a new law moves primaries up by two months, campaigning will begin long before the dogwood is out ... maybe while the Christmas lights are up.

Many candidates may be wary of lighting into an issue on which it's almost impossible to take an all-around popular stand. But whoever gets elected and comes to Austin in 1961 will find the old tax monster waiting, bigger and fiercer than ever.

This Legislature will likely enact just barely enough new taxes, mostly on "old favorite" sources, to cover the budget. But the 1961 budget will have to bigger. For some time population growth and other factors have kept budgets going up by about 10 per cent every two years.

Additionally, there will be, as always, demand for new programs new buildings, new spending. Hale-Aikin school improvement program alone would call for at least a $100,000,000 tax bill.

Only hope for avoiding an even hotter tax battle in '61 is for 1960 voters to give their elected officials clear instructions on what they want and how they're willing to pay for it.

BATTLE LINES

Show-down fight of the second called session came on a $90,000,000 a year tax bill based on about three-fourths selective sales taxes, one-fourth business taxes.

It was in line with expressed sentiments of the Senate, but many House members regarded it as "another insult". All the five Senators and five House members on the conference committee that worked out the bill signed the report and recommended adoption.

It was designed to get revenue from these sources over a 2-year period:

TOBACCO—Cigarettes up 3 cents a pack (for two years - then back to one cent) to raise $60,000,000 Other tobacco products, except snuff, a 25 per cent tax to raise $13,500,000.

NATURAL GAS—Raise in the production tax from 7 to 8 per cent to bring in $12,000,000.

CORPORATION FRANCHISES—Increase of 75 cents per $1,000 in capital to May, 1960, 50 cents increase thereafter to raise $32,000,000.

UTILITIES—a 20 per cent increase in gross receipts tax except for telephone and telegraph, for $3,000,000.

MOTOR VEHICLES—increase in sales tax from 1.1 to 1.6 per cent, for $20,400,000.

BOATS, MOTORS, AIRPLANES $1408 to $1.68 a gallon, wine up —a new 1.6 per cent sales tax, for $3,250,000.

BEVERAGES—Liquor up from 20 per cent, for $6,000,000.

Radios, Televisions, Phonographs a 2.2 per cent sales tax, for $6,000,000.

CAMERAS—temporary 10 per cent sales tax for $6,000,000.

Provisions for more vigorous tax collecting would bring an estimated $4,000,000 more.

NEW INSURANCE BILL

Out of the House-Senate conflict over the State Board of Insurance came a reorganization bill aimed at getting rid of at least some present officials.

Sen. Floyd Bradshaw of Weatherford introduced the bill calling for organization of a new three-member, full-time Board of Insurance.

One member would be designated Commissioner at a $20,000 salary. One would be the chairman at $15,000; another, a member at $15,000. Nothing in the bill says present members could not be appointed, but all appointments would be subject to Senate confirmation.

Senators tried to oust present Commissioner William A. Harrison two years ago, were balked by Board Chairman Penn Jackson and an Attorney General's ruling that they lacked this authority.

Since then Senate hostility toward Jackson and Harrison has been open and frank. Senate appropriation bill slashed salaries to one-third time for Board members. House held out for full-time Board.

Senate's counter-offer was the re-organization bill ... with a full-time Board to please the House and a chance to name new members to please the Senate.

Dr. Bowman To Host Summer Workshop

Dr. George Bowman will be host for the summer workshop of the steering committee of the Episcopal Laymen's Movement of the Diocese of Texas. A three day meeting will be held Beginning Friday July 17.

The purpose of the workshop is to plan laymen's work for the coming year for the Diocese of Texas.

Outdoors In Texas:

Mrs. Elaine Vickers Is Top Fisherman at Lake Belton

By Vern Sanford

Another woman has walked into a man's world and copped first place!

This time she is a cute little blonde with a pony tail that waves from shoulder to shoulder every time she tosses a fishing plug.

At Lake Belton on the last day of May she proved conclusively to man and bass that opening your big mouth can get you into trouble.

She hung 39 pounds of bass, on her rod and reel. But more than that, she hung defeat on a bunch of men who'd been fishing Lake Belton for weeks and bragging about how they would take the tournament.

Perhaps there weren't a dozen persons in the tournament who had ever heard of Elaine Vickers. She and her husband Vic operate Lake Point Lodges at Buchanan where "she fishes a little every day."

To say Elaine Vickers was a dark horse and not expected to win isn't exactly true. A couple of months ago Dave Hawk, last year's state champ, and L. A. Wilke, one of my fishing buddies, were riding along the highway talking about possibilities among some of the hot-shot fishermen. They named them over one by one, discussing the strong and weak points of each.

They agreed that any one of three or four, who had been fishing the lakes regularly, might cop the honors.

"Then there might be a dark horse," said Wilke.

"Dark Horse!" Dave repeated. "Yep I know a pony tail that can do it." He then said Elaine Vickers, in his opinion, possesed all the qualities of a great fisherman.

"She's better than her husband, but together they make a wonderful pair," he said. "Elaine is the best caster, Vic is a good boatman. If they enter the tournament they'll be sure to take the husband-wife trophy, and I had just about as soon bet on her winning first place."

Dave had watched Elaine fish a great deal. In fact, he had done some side-line coaching even before she had thought of entering the tournament.

Dave had met Vic and Elaine rather accidentally. He was talking with Game Warden Flannagan about a good spot to launch his boat one day when we planned a picture taking trip to the lake. The warden sent him to Lake Point Lodges and it was then that he met the woman who was not only ers, in his opinion, possessed all to succeed him as top fisherman, but also was to cop the perpetual trophy he gave this year in the State Bass Tournament.

This tournament is sponsored on some Texas lake each year by the Waco Herald-Tribune.

Last year the tournament was held on the Highland Lakes and Hawk was the winner. Elaine was present during the tournament, but wasn't a contestant.

The year before, the tournament was held at Lake Whitney. Ray Creel was the winner.

Those three names — Creel, Hawk and Vickers — now appear on this perpetual trophy, which is nearly four feet high.

Vic and Elaine formerly worked in the composing room of the Abilene Reporter-News. When they were married in 1951, they honeymooned on Lake Buchanan at the very camp they now own.

"I fished with a cane pole and rowed my boat on that trip," she now recounts. Today she tosses her lures with a 5½ foot Ted Williams rod, equipped with a Shakespeare Sportscast reel. She uses a Silvertrol electric motor to move her boat around among the rocky coves of Lake Buchanan.

Inidentally, she says winning the tournament will not affect her fishing habits. She still thinks Buchanan is the best place in Texas to fish.

Elaine is a hard working fisherman. She has good eyes and has developed a strong casting arm. She has good control, so she has no trouble in using a fast reel and light lures.

Her favorite fish is the black bass, although she does like to hit the schools of whites that "infest" Buchanan at times.

She uses a lure to fit the occasion For the last several months she's been using extractors, Champs, and jigs and plastic eels. Now she has switched over to some Hula poppers and similar top water lures.

The Vickers have a four-year old son who plays around the lake shore all day, but isn't particularly interested in fishing. He'd rather see a good cowboy movie, or a science fiction piece on the television.

Elaine believes any woman can become a proficient fisherman if she likes fishing. She can't understand why anyone wouldn't like to fish successfully it is best to have an interest in it.

More and more women are coming to the lake every year to fish, she says. This has come about with the family usage of boats.

"The women learn to drive the boat," she says. "With self-starters and good motors they can operate on the lake as easily as they run their cars on the highways. When they once get on the water and get used to it, then they want to fish. We have some dandies now on Lake Buchanan."

The Vickers live at Lake Point Lodges, just west of Buchanan Dam. They can literally fish out of their back door.

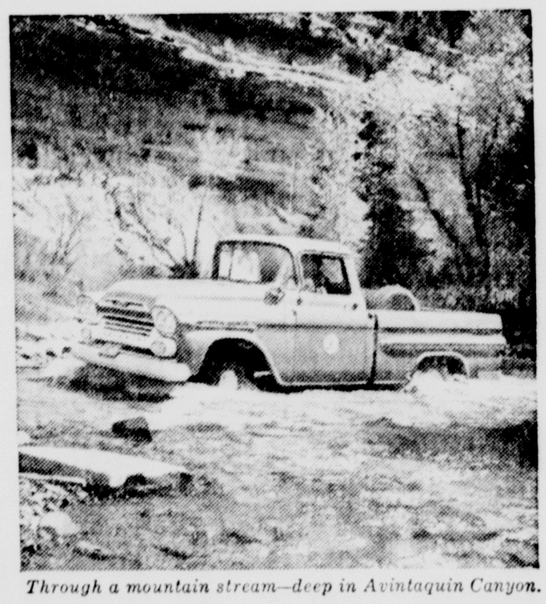
Up a steep mud-choked wash—Positraction pays off!



Through a mountain stream—deep in Avintaquin Canyon.

NO MOUNTAIN CAT, MISTER...

That's a Chevy with Positraction!

That 3134 Fleetside has the sure-footed ways of a big western bobcat. Roams through high brush country that would buck the life out of most trucks. Crosses streams without benefit of a bridge. Climbs talus grades where piñon won't even grow. But that's all routine for this Chevy, equipped with Positraction* rear axle. It's hard at it every day for the Utah Fish and Game commission. Figure about 60,000 miles of mountaineering before this Chevy is traded. And yet the district officer who drives it would bet his badge the tie rods won't even need replacing!

Out in that wild, climbing Utah country, Chevy's suspension and frame and brakes, its Positraction rear axle and Thriftmaster 6 power are proving themselves under rougher conditions than most test engineers could dream up. They're proving that Chevrolet's advanced engineering and design ideas pay off—in spades—when the going gets especially mean and dirty.

Positraction, of course, is a big plus on this job, providing the sure grip needed to dig through mud, snow, loose sand, whatever comes along. Could be that a Positraction-equipped ½-ton pickup is the answer for your area of operation. Or maybe a 4-wheel drive Chevy. We've got trucks that specialize in getting in and out of any kind of country. Talk to your dealer about your needs. He'll show you what tough trucks are made of.
